

To whom it may concern about the product / equipment / services warrantee

Warrantee for the products / equipment / service is given by the manufacturer of the respective products /equipment / service warrantee terms and conditions, application all the details will be mentioned the respective product data sheet, technical specification, warrantee terms & conditions of the manufacturer. All the implication related to the warrantee its sole responsibility will be the respective manufacturer of the product. Customer may keep, install, maintain and operate their equipment / products as per the operating procedure and direction given by the manufacturer of the respective equipment / products. Products damages during handling, transportation, loading, unloading, natural calamity, accidents, any other forms other than the manufacturing defects it is not related to the part of the warrantee. All the claims related to the warrantee will be directly dealt with the manufacturer, we as a dealer /distributor / franchise is not a part or not holding any role of the warrantee claims.

It is applicable for all the products which are distributed through our channel and this condition is electronically coded and it is part of the terms and conditions.